Beatriz Lasheras Mas

Department of Government, University of Vienna
Kolingasse 14–16, 1090 Vienna, Austria

Email: beatriz.lasheras.mas@univie.ac.at

Website: beatrizlasherasmas.github.io

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Public opinion | Voting behaviour | Political representation | Quantitative methods

ACADEMIC EMPLOYMENT

Pre-doctoral Researcher on MEDem Project 09/2026 – ongoing
Department of Government, University of Vienna

Pre-doctoral Researcher and Lecturer 09/2022 – 08/2026
Department of Government, University of Vienna

EDUCATION

University of Vienna, Austria 09/2022 – ongoing
PhD in Political Science

- Supervised by Sylvia Kritzinger, Carolina Plescia, and Pablo Fernández-Vázquez

Aarhus University, Denmark 10/2024 – 12/2024
Visiting Researcher (Hosted by Rune Slothuus)

Carlos III University of Madrid, Spain 09/2020 – 07/2022
Master in Social Sciences (120 ECTS)

- Quantitative research-oriented master — Qualification: 9.04/10; Thesis: 9.5/10 (with honours)

Complutense University of Madrid, Spain 09/2015 – 07/2019
Bachelor in Journalism (240 ECTS)

National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, Greece 09/2018 – 02/2019
Erasmus Exchange

RESEARCH

Peer-reviewed Publications

- Sophisticated, Yet Biased? The Role of Political Sophistication and Partisan Strength in Perceptions of Party Positions and Projection Effects. Forthcoming in Journal of Elections, Public Opinion and Parties.

Papers Under Review

- They Find a Way: Relative Perceptions of Party Issue Positions and Voter-Party Congruence.

Working Papers

- When Accountability Fails: Understanding Voter Inaction in the Face of Political Scandals (with Julia Partheymüller, Carolina Plescia, and Sylvia Kritzinger). Conference paper.
- When Do Citizens Follow or Lead? The Role of Attitude Certainty. Conference paper.
- Does Party Policy Blurring Hinder Representation? Positional Ambiguity and (Perceived) Voter-Party Congruence. Work in progress.
- He's Just Not That Into Clarity: How Shifts in Party Ambiguity Shape Individual's Vote Propensity (with Merel Fieremans and Jasmien Luypaert). Work in progress.

GRANTS

- Short-term grants abroad (KWA), University of Vienna: 2024 (€3,050)

PRESENTATIONS

- EPSS Annual Conference: 2026
- ECPR Joint Sessions: 2026
- PAPERSS Seminar Series, Carlos III University of Madrid, February 2026
- 24 Hours of Political Psychology: 2024, 2026
- Polarization and Party Competition Workshop, Stanford University, September 2025
- APSA Annual Meeting: 2025
- SISP Annual Conference: 2025
- EPSA Annual Conference: 2024, 2025
- Political Behavior Workshop, Aarhus University, October 2024
- EPOP Annual Conference, 2024

TEACHING

Methods Workshops

- One-day Introduction to R Workshop, University of Graz (October 2026) [Syllabus]

Methods Seminars

- Quantitative Methods of Empirical Social Research with R, undergraduate course, University of Vienna (Summer Semester 2025; Winter Semester 2025/26) [Syllabus]
- Quantitative Methods of Empirical Social Research with Stata, undergraduate course, University of Vienna (Winter Semester 2023/24)

Substantive Seminars

- Political Representation, Public Opinion, and Electoral Behaviour, undergraduate course, University of Vienna (Summer Semester 2026) [Syllabus]
- Comparative Politics, undergraduate course, University of Vienna (Summer Semester 2024) [Syllabus]

ACADEMIC SERVICE

- Journal Reviewer: Electoral Studies; Journal of Elections, Public Opinion and Parties.
- Chairing: APSA Vancouver (September 2025); Carlos III–Juan March Institute Conference (June 16–17, 2022)
- Initiator and organiser of "Empirical Political Science PhD Club" at the Vienna Doctoral School of Social Sciences (November 2022 — February 2024)

METHODS TRAINING

- Qualitative analysis with LLMs: The quallmer toolbox by Seraphine F. Maerz and Kenneth Benoit (June 2026).
- Panel Analysis by Valeria Bordone (March–June 2026).
- Causality in Quantitative Research by Christopher Wratil (March–June 2024).
- Empirical Implications of Theoretical Models (EITM) OSLO Summer Institute 2023 (June 2023).
- Unleashing the Potential of Geography in Social Sciences: An Introduction to GIS with R by Fernando de la Cuesta (June 2023) — Organiser and participant.
- Advanced Topics in Regression Models by Julia Partheymüller (March–June 2023).
- Conjoint Analysis by Sebastián Lavezzolo (November 2021).

SOFTWARE

Statistical analysis: R, Stata | Text editing: LaTeX| Survey design: Qualtrics, QuestionPro

LANGUAGES

Spanish - native | English - proficient | Italian - intermediate | German - beginner

REFERENCES

Sylvia Kritzinger
University of Vienna
Professor sylvia.kritzinger@univie.ac.at

Pablo Fernández-Vázquez
Carlos III University
Associate Professor
pablo.fernandez.vazquez@uc3m.es

Carolina Plescia
University of Vienna
Associate Professor carolina.plescia@univie.ac.at

October 2026